SPORT AND POLITICS

Notes About Men and Their Doings in the Two Great Fields of National Pastime.

every place in Chicago where water is a necessity.

There is only one way out of the chronic water difficulty in which Chicago finds itself.

All this dreary drivel about "home rule" must be dropped and the State of Illinois asked to run our water system on a non-partisan and common sense principle. With a competent board of engineers controlled by the state and appointed by the governor, running the Chicago water works, the city would have an abundant supply of that life giving and life sustaining fluid.

Under local control the Chicago water works system turns wholly on graft and every cry for relief only awakens the cupidity of dealers in water meters and other appliances for circulating boodle where it will do the most good to boodlers and the most harm to Chicagoans.

Women are getting ready for the aldermanic election next spring, at which they can vote. Three women are said to be sure to get in the aldermanic race next spring for council seats under the limited suffrage act. They are:

Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen, 21st ward.
Miss Mary McDowell, 27th ward.
Miss Sophronia Breckenridge, 6th ward.

They will run as independents, say reports in political circles. The Equal Suffrage association advocates non-partisanship in the preliminary trials, while the women are contending for full suffrage, which will require a constitutional amendment or convention to confer the authority.

Mrs. Bowen and Miss McDowell are active in social settlement work. Miss Breckenridge is a lecturer at the University of Chicago.

With the aid of the railroads and their smoke, Chicago has grown from nothing to be the fourth city in the world. Electrification will be a step backwards.

ONE OF MINNESOTA'S BRILLIANT PLAYERS

C. D. Shaughnessy, Right Tackle, Star of Minnesota Team This Year.

ENGLISH CRITICISM OF GOLF

Bernard Darwin of London Times. Writes interestingly of his impressions of Chicago Players.

It does us good once in awhile to read the criticism of strangers, especially with regard to sports.

There has been in our midst for some time Bernard Darwin, the golf editor of the London Times, one of the ablest experts commenting on this wonderful game of our times. He has recently visited several of the more prominent golf courses about Chicago and has written most interestingly his impression of them, says the Milwaukee Sentinel. It is a source of satisfaction to know that Darwin, who is too great a man to write other than he honestly thinks, has in the main commended our golf courses and estimated them favorably with some of the famous ones of England.

It was also interesting to have Darwin comment on the manifest interest in the game by Chicago men. He was not a little surprised at the wild enthusiasm of many of the players over the mere probability of getting into a foursome which would require a mighty long wait at the tee and take about three hours to finish.

His comment on this particular aspect of the game was as follows: "To the pampered and effete Saxon there would be almost irresistible temptation in the attraction of staying at home altogether under such circumstances. But the cheerful golfer of Chicago brushes these paltry, whimpering objections to one side and plays the game with tremendous keenness, and at the same time in a spirit of friendliness and jollity and making the best of every minute of a hard earned holiday, which is a lesson to us all. Any reasonably observant visitor must, I think, bear witness to this wonderful love of the game, and it is, moreover, bearing good fruit, for Chicago could put into the field a team of young men under thirty that would make a great fight of it with any city in the golfing world."

HARVARD STAR OUT OF GAME

Tudor Gardiner, Leading Candidate for End on Gridiron Team, Probably Will Never Play Again.

Tudor Gardiner, star tackle of the Harvard varsity eleven of 1911 and a leading candidate for end on the present crimson team, probably will never play football again. Gardiner was lost to the Harvard team when physicians advised against his playing. He broke his forearm in the Harvard-Princeton game two years ago and the injury kept him out of the game last year. Under the test of two weeks' practice the arm was found too weak to allow him to play with reasonable safety.

His absence, together with the illness of Millholland and Dana and the ineffectuality of Smith, has left Harvard with only three available ends, instead of the seven who started the practice season.

Punching Bag Discarded.
Present day fighters say that the punching bag is more of a hindrance than help in the training quarters. Since the advent of the inflated bag, body punching seems to become a lost art as the fighters would have that swing to the head perfected from hitting the suspended bag. This in a way is responsible for the few knockouts at the present time. Formerly many went down from a well placed body blow.

Bars Player-Writers.
Captain Ketcham of the Yale football team has put the stamp of disapproval on newspaper article by "player authors." Ketcham turned down an offer to write articles for a New York newspaper and at the same time requested his team to refrain from writing. Some of the players of last year's eleven wrote articles for metropolitan papers.

Hyatt Some Pinch Hitter.
Ram Hyatt, the Pirate pinch hitter, is still there with the willow when it comes to a pinch. The Pittsburgh star is regarded as one of the best substitutes in the majors.

Browns Grab Fast Shortstop.
Wallie Smith, ex-Cardinal third sacker who helped Atlanta win the Southern league pennant, says that the Browns have a real prize in Billand, the new shortstop.

Many Possible Managers.
Stovall, Donovan, Moriarty, Leach and McCormick are mentioned as possible managers of the Chattanooga club for next season.

Mack Wins World's Series Four Times

Connie Mack is the only manager who has ever won the American league pennant five times. It is likely that his record will never be equaled by any other man. Hughey Jennings is second to Mack, with three victories.

Of the players who assisted Mack to bring the first flag to Philadelphia in 1902 only three are now with the Athletics. These are Capt. Dan Murphy, who at that time was playing second base; Harry Davis, who played first base, and Eddie Plank, who was and is still pitching.

Winners of the American league pennant are as follows:

Year.	Club.	Manager.
1901	Chicago	Comiskey
1902	Athletics	Connie Mack
1903	Boston	Jimmy Collins
1904	Boston	Jimmy Collins
1905	Athletics	Connie Mack
1906	Chicago	Pleider Jones
1907	Detroit	Hugh Jennings
1908	Detroit	Hugh Jennings
1909	Athletics	Connie Mack
1910	Athletics	Connie Mack
1911	Boston	Jake Stahl
1912	Athletics	Connie Mack

BRIGHT STAR OF MICHIGAN

Allmendinger, One of Coach Yost's Most Dependable Players.

Conklin Turns Professional.
C. F. Conklin, the brilliant amateur billiard player who has decided to turn professional, was influenced by a change in fortune. Conklin is a stereotypical by profession and a strike threw him out of employment. He was compelled to turn to his billiard playing. It is said that if he can master the difficult massé on which he is weak, he will be a match for the best of them.

Field Sports.
Tom Halpern of Boston easily won on the 600-yard race at New York. In the last time of 1:12. He fell down about 150 yards from the tape, but recovered and outdistanced his field by several yards. E. M. Pritchard set a new record for 100 hurdles of 13 1/5 against the old time of 13 3/5.

Engle Goes to Cuba.
Clyde Engle of the Red Sox will go to Cuba in the winter to manage a team at Matanzas. He may take several players from the states with him.

Praises Demaree.
In speaking of Al Demaree a few days ago Manager McGraw passed this compliment: "I consider him the smartest young pitcher I ever saw. I believe today he is next to Mathewson in this respect."

MAY KILL BIG SERIES

World's Series Becoming Harder to Handle Each Year.

Fact That Four Clubs Have Monopolized All of Money in Post-Season Gold Mine for Four Years Causes Discontent.

With half a million dollars of easy money for one week's play, the world's championship series is each year becoming more and more difficult to handle, and this season threatens to rattle the long and well established peace of organized baseball. To begin with, the fact that four clubs have monopolized all of the money in this post-season gold mine for the last four years has stirred up a feeling of dissatisfaction among the other 12 clubs forming the two big circuits. Last season an effort was made to alleviate this growing feeling a little by ordering that a certain per cent. of the receipts from the big series should be turned over for a working fund for the two leagues, but this failed, since the Boston and New York clubs refused to give up the money.

The greed for gold that discussion over this situation has excited in considering the enormous returns received from the half-a-dozen or so games of this short series seems to have entered the blood of all connected with baseball, with the result that the money that can be made out of the games has become of greater importance than anything else, not even excepting winning the series. This is proven by the readiness of the rival managers to permit star players to write or pretend to write daily reports of the games during the progress of the series, notwithstanding the fact that they cannot deny that writing or pretending to write such articles at the conclusion of each game must act as a detriment to the play of such players, since it takes their minds off the actual playing of the game.

Another thing that is disturbing the general public is the business methods of the two pennant-winning clubs in disposing of tickets for the games. Under announced conditions all reserved seat tickets are placed on sale on one day, and it is a case of first come first served for two seats each, every purchase to be for three games that are likely to be played in the city where they are purchased. No one can buy more than two seats and all tickets call for the three games, so those who plan to see only one or two games must combine with some other person who also wishes to see one or two games and buy a partnership ticket calling for three games.

While very unsatisfactory to many baseball patrons, this system is a very good thing for the ball club. In the first place it insures a big crowd for each of the three games in each city. The crowds are sure to be limited only by the size of the grounds for the first game, and by this arrangement must be equally as large for the two succeeding games in each city, no matter how one-sided the series may prove. It is a very cute business move for this reason, and also for the additional reason that one sale disposes of all the tickets.

World's Fly Casting Records Are Smashed

Two world's records were established at Chicago in the first annual tournament of the National Amateur Casting association. C. O. Dorchester set a new mark of 155 feet with a regulation 15-foot rod. In the light tackle accuracy fly-casting event, I. H. Bellows outdid all previous performances by making a perfect score of 100.

Bait-casting and dry fly honors went to H. Wheeler and T. A. Forsyth. Forsyth took the trophy for all-around best performance in all events.

ONE OF PRINCETON'S STARS

Heyniger, Princeton's Left Guard, Who is Showing Remarkably Good Form in That Position, Practicing Too.

Gain Most Points.
The Philadelphia Nationals have gained more points this season than any other major league team. Doolin's Phils have gained 115 points over last season's record. The Braves have made the next best gain, tackling on 106 points.

Praises Demaree.
In speaking of Al Demaree a few days ago Manager McGraw passed this compliment: "I consider him the smartest young pitcher I ever saw. I believe today he is next to Mathewson in this respect."
